Going for the Gold! Sophmore Ann Bitenc visited the Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs, CO. While standing on the victory podium, she felt the thrill of winning an Olympic medal.

The Jamaican Man! Decked out in Jamaican attire, Junior Cody Brewer visits a popular pub during his vacation in Ocho Rios, Jamaica.

we got around

While some K.H.S. students sat around watching television and playing video games, others managed to "get around" and go all over America this summer. For instance, Senior Kim Miller went to California during the O.J. Simpson preliminaries. While on the West Coast, the tour guide took her sightseeing and they stopped at O.J.'s temporary home, the L.A. County Jail. Meanwhile, Senior Angel Santos went to Disney World on a family vacation. She got a stomach virus on the first day and literally covered the East Coast! Junior Lori Hooser put on sweat pants and a coat to head North. She went to Ore, Minnesota and froze at a three week "summer" camp.

Other students did a variety of activities on their vacations. Sophomores, Erica Wampole and Felicia Moran went mountain climbing at Mineral Wells State Park. While trying to descend the cliff, Felicia accidentally slipped and skidded down the mountain side. Freshman Chasity Elam actually met Troy Aikman face to face. She was at a Tanya Tucker and Tracy Lawrence concert when she saw him standing in the crowd and shook his hand.

Believe it or not, not only do the students have a life, but the teachers do as well. Neil Mowles (Choral Director) went hiking with his wife in New Mexico at Carsons National Forest. While pitching camp, they heard a strange noise. Naturally assuming it was a bear, they ran to escape its treacherous claws. When they finally returned to camp, instead of a bear they saw a herd of cows!

After all of the excitement and relaxation of the summer, it was hard for the students and faculty to return to school in August.

Who done it? With all the controversy over the Nicole Simpson murder, the L.A. County Jail became a major tourist attraction.

back to the future

Our high school years are often spent not only making memories, but planning ahead for the future. Some students prefer to live for the day and worry about tomorrow when it comes. They view these years as carefree times before entering the real world. "You're supposed to have fun in high school; party!" said Freshman Daniel Hommel. In turn, questions about the future are often met with laughter and sarcasm. "When I grow up, I want to be Bozo the Clown," said Junior Scott Cook.

Others see high school as a springboard to success and use every resource available to advance themselves and plan their future. KHS now offers many assorted AP (advanced placement) classes, where students can earn college credit for taking the class via satellite and passing a final exam at the end of the course. "My AP English class helps me get ready for college because we do a lot of college-level writing that I wasn't prepared for but now I can do it a little easier," said Jeni Durham, Senior.

To help them plan ahead, students sets goals for themselves. As each students' outlook on the future differs, so do the personal goals they set for themselves to help them achieve their plans. Freshman Summer Morris, who plans on college and a professional career, says that, by the end of her high school career, "I'd like to get straight A's." After high school, say in twenty years, a few ambitious students, like senior Bobby Rowland, say that they'll have "Kathy Ireland on one arm, Claudia Schieffer on the other, and eight kids in between." Other students see themselves more realistically. Senior Meagan Irwin sees herself "working as a nurse at Cook's Hospital and pregnant with the child of a famous baseball player." On that note, we must remember that many students feel that the future includes more than a career. Sophomore Heather Golden believes that an important part of adult life is having a family. "I want to have children because I want to feel truly loved, and I want more than anything else to be called M o m m y."

Our high school years are inarguably some of the most influential; they ultimately shape us and help us become the adults we were meant to be. The friends we make, the feelings we share, they will all become part of us. So as we discover the real world for ourselves, expand our minds and hearts and become what we never thought we'd be; a grown up, we must realize that no matter where we go, or what we accomplish, there will always be a part of us that's still a Wildcat.

Extra! Extra! Senior Lori Rainwater and Junior Heath Wakeland practice for careers in journalism while working on the newspaper staff.

peas in a pod

Everyone has different views on friendship, but it all boils down to one thing; we like to have someone to hang around and talk to. Sophomore April Hencke said she liked having "One best friend. It is very special to share all your secrets with someone and I feel that you can only share a good secret with one." Sophomore Carol Sharp said, "I believe in having a group of best friends because I think you shouldn't be limited to just one." Junior Diana Anderson shared both views, "I have a group of very close friends who could be considered best friends, but I have only one best friend."

Friends are the people you can always trust with anything including your most embarassing moments. Junior Ellen Hampton recalled being "At K-Mart and I was going to buy a drink for my mother and fell right on my bobo doing the splits." Sophomore Megan Cash said she was hunting with her best friend and her best friend's dad almost shot her by accident.

After high school graduation many friends are separated to pursue their own goals. Senior Christina Vett hopes she will stay in touch with her friends "... but people often split apart after high school." Sophomore Sarah Henley says " We both put forth the effort to stay friends, and if we continue as we are, I know we will."

Out to lunch. Freshman Veronica Edwards squeezes in between freshman sisters Teneka and Shametra McCain. This threesome made a habit of spending lunchtime together.

Hangin' around. Sophomores Jamie Durham and Hiedi Burns smile while senior Lacey McNarin flashes a sassy grin. The group met at church over the summer and their friendship lasted into the school year.

Say cheese. Freshman Myra Garcia loops her arms around sophomore Andred Altamirano and Senior sister Anabelle Garcia. Despite the age difference, these students have stayed good friends.

Singin' in the Rain. Seniors Amanda Cash and Meagan Irwin watch the Forney game in anticipation with Junior Jennifer Feasal. Despite the weather, the trio did an excellent job of "Singing in the Rain."

Hangin' On. Seniors Christina Vett, Angel Santos, Franklin Jones, Matt Boyd, and Jamie Hostettler group at lunch with Juniors Christian Davidson and Brock Kuharcheck during the first week of school.

High and Dry. Juniors Meagan Cash and Shannon Hayek smile for the camera at the first JV football game. Despite the rain their spirits stayed high and dry.

New fall sport! Sophomore Frank Friddle showed how to body surf in the front yard of the school after a rain storm.

A little louder, Sugar! Sophomore Steven Slater "rips it up" in choir singing a Whitney Houston song.

caught in the act

Blinded by the flash, you look up and realize you've been caught on film forever. Whether you'd been acting cheesy with all your friends, or looked repulsive and unprepared, you know that someone out there now has a copy.

It's true that pictures make the best memories, but you won't see forced ear-to-ear grins on these pages. You will see real life and as we all know that sometimes "reality bites".

Sophomore Quay Gill knows all about reality. "We were all sitting around eating lunch at cheerleading camp," he says with an embarrassing grin. "Just as I took a sip of my orange soda, Melanie said something hysterical and it spewed everywhere, from my mouth and nose. It was awful!" Sometimes a bad picture can lead to an embarrassing moment, but some of us, like Quay, are lucky enough not to have been caught on film.

One day most of us will reach the ripe old age of eighty. But when you do, you can let these pictures tell your story for you.

Hats off Students such as Chris Carter showed spirit by participating in various theme days during Homecoming week.

The face of spirit Sophomore Christie Bezdeck and Junior Jenny Reiners supported the Wildcats with green, black, and white painted faces.

After hours Juniors Candice Elmore and Heath Wakeland stay after school to help decorate the halls for Homecoming.

ter Majesty Senior Amanda Cash stands with her father after being crowned Homeoming Queen. The announcement was made during halftime of the football game on October 28.

Shoe polish mania Junior Jamie Malone said, "Homecoming 1994 rocked! I had the time of my life." Malone and Junior Becky Mullins were two of many students who decorated the town the night before the game.

Spreading Spirit The V.I.C.A club presented Brandy White with a mum at the Homecoming pep rally.

let your spirit show

A spirit filled week led up to a victorious homecoming game. Beginning the week before homecoming students participated in various contests and events to raise school spirit. Most students enjoyed dressing accordingly for the theme days, which included everything from ties to boots and jeans.

Other events brought out the competitive spirit among the classes. In the end the juniors and the sophomores tied in the spirit links contest and the senior class won the penny campaign.

As usual everyone enjoyed spending the evening before homecoming decorating their class hall and the town. The walls of the gym at the homecoming pep rally were plastered with posters of different clubs, attempting to win the poster contest hosted by student council. The pep rally was topped off with announcement of Homecoming King, Kirby Neal. Later that evening Amanda Cash was crowned as Homecoming Queen. To conclude the week, the Wildcats rallied to beat Glenrose 21-16.

LARGEST but lowest

"The hardest thing about being in high school is being the youngest class," said Jason Greenfield. And when there's 168 other freshmen, making it the largest class in the school, it's not exactly easy for them to blend in. Many find themselves subjected to the traditional fish torture, like Summer Morris and Kim Brumfield, who said the hardest part about high school was "trying to keep from getting bushed." But they have managed to survive by proving themselves unique and talented. Almost all of the freshman sports teams performed very well, if not exceptional. Many freshmen exhibited the athletic skills worthy of a spot on the Varsity team, like Alfredo Parra, who played the end of the season on the varsity football team, and says he "really liked it", and that the other players were "nice, for the most part." Also, freshmen are active in the band, choir, and many other clubs and organizations. So far, the fish seem to be adjusting just swimmingly. Ryan Cosser said the only thing he didn't like about this year was "having my brother around all the time." But most of them like high school; because of, as Becky Clark says, the freedom, or, in Jennifer Smith's opinion, the many new people to socialize with and meet.

So what makes this class stand out? Their modesty. Physical Science teacher Ms. Hinz said the freshmen were "the most polite class. They are nice to all the teachers." However, many fish don't seem to think there's anything special about them; not counting Jason Simpson, who said the one thing the freshman class added to KHS was "good looking guys." For the most part, their high school careers are off to a good start; succeeding in all areas while still staying friends; all 168 of them.

THREE + ONE = ninety-seven

Three spirit sticks in a row plus a landslide tradition-breaking victory at the homecoming pep rally made the class of '97 Kennedale's most spirited group of sophomores ever. This year's sophomore class set a school record for the most spirit stick wins in a row and broke the tradition of seniors winning the homecoming pep rally. "We're more spirited and we'll keep this new tradition until we graduate" stated Lawrence Lee. The secret to their new found spirit is a sense of unity; this class rallied together to come back from a large loss, to tie with the Junior class in the Homecoming spirit link campaign. At almost every pep rally, the entire sophomore class stood up for the length of the assembly in support of the Wildcats.

Their spirit did not end at the pep rallies. Sophomores carried out their winning attitudes in all of their classes and extracurricular activities. That spirit has put sophomores in leading roles throughout the school. For instance, Amber Head was president of FBLA, Jamie Durham was president of TAFE, and Rick Hayek was captain of the Varsity Cross-Country team. Many other sophomores participated in numerous organizations, making them one of the most involved classes. Sophomore sponsor Jeannie Woolum sums it up best, "In the last five years, we have seen very little spirit in students their sophomore year, and it was a nice change to see the sophomores take a lead in spirit-mindedness."

PAINT the town green

Not a window or sidewalk was safe

One of the few Homecoming traditions on campus is to decorate the town on the Thursday night before the big game. Originally, the idea was focused to intimidate the opposing team when they entered town. However, each year it becomes more of an event for students to spend time with each other outside of class while spreading spirit. Though in the past all classes have joined in on the expressions in shoe polish, the Juniors dominated this year. Mike Cosser and Christy Biggs liked "painting" the town because, "It brought everyone together. It wasn't the jocks and the band... it was the juniors." Ryan Ray added, "It's fun to do some things different, and you only get to (decorate the town) once a year." Other juniors like Sam Riley were excited about getting out of school early to clean up. Regardless of their reason, the juniors agreed that "painting the town green" was a memorable night for their class.

ALL MIXED UP

Emotions run high for class of '95

For twelve years students anticipate graduation, but as the day approached, mixed emotions prevailed within the class of 1995. Seniors expressed their concerns on a variety of issues. For instance, controversy came early in the year when some students said they wanted graduation held on the football field. Beau Hester said, "I think it's a bad decision on the Senior body not to have graduation on the football field. I was looking forward to starting some tradition here. Our school needs more tradition."

On the same note, Beth Scott said, "I know in the end our class will pull together and agree on a graduation site. It is the last thing we will do together as the class of '95. The location doesn't really matter. We are celebrating the completion of all our hard work - that's the important thing."

More important to Beth is the thought of leaving high school as a 17 year resident she said, "All my life I knew exactly what I wanted to do... now that (graduation) is here, I'm scared to death." Although Beth worries about her future, others are concerned with friendships that may end. Shanel Trevino said, "I'm kind of excited about graduation, but there is a fear of losing my friends. Our Senior class is close and I'm going to miss that."

In essence, graduation seemed to be the biggest concern as well as the most anticipated event for the Seniors.

All Work and No Pay

Through the hard work and long hours spent competing in UIL, students found the thrill and excitement of the UIL experience.

Competing in a UIL event is a lengthy and difficult task that requires enormous dedication from both the students and the teachers. This year, fifty students took on the challenge and competed in one or more of the many different events. Each competition called for many practices. Students and teachers met on their own time to practice. Teachers who volunteered to coach events were not paid by the school for their work. Instead, Mrs. Ward, the UIL coordinator, raised funds to divide between all the coaches as a small reimbursement for their time. The fund raisers were a school supply store and a district-wide student phone directory.

Practice meets were held in February and early March at Grand Prairie, Glen Rose and Jacksboro. The final meet took place on March 21 and 22 at Hill College. The One Act Play, "What I did Last Summer," was performed in April at Glen Rose. Although not every one placed in their events their dedication and determination brought forth a learning experience that will not soon be forgotten.

PAL'n around

From laughter to tears, this group has been through it all.

A new program was added to KHS called Peer Assistance and Leadership, (P.A.L.) Sixteen students were chosen after a vigorous process including a lengthy application ana a personal interview. Over eighty students applied for the sixteen prestigious slots as a P.A.L. Although some problems reduced the class to nine students, they worked hard in making a difference. Mr. Lenzmeier said, "P.A.L. has been a tremendous addition to all of KISD. The students have been a great influence to students at the elementary and junior high level.

These P.A.L.'s have been through workshops and six weeks of intensive training. Junior Alicia Brunson learned "how to get along with others and that you can't always help solve everyone's problems." In the P.A.L.'s introduction to the elementary and junior high schools, they made sure the faculty knew they were not "cure-all's" and weren't allowed to give advice. Instead they listen and offer support in the P.A.L.ee's decision of how to deal with their situations. Senior Quincy McCarty said he's learned "how to help kids with their grades and to help them make better people out of themselves."

This group of P.A.L.'s has accomplished many goals in their first year at KISD. Mr. Lenzmeier said "Growth on part of the P.A.L.s and P.A.L.ees has been wonderful experience. I have enjoyed working with a caring and understanding group of individuals such as the P.A.L class."

Getting down to business

MOCT, or Multi-occupational career training prepares students for several careers after high school.

Many students are fearful of graduating from high school and entering the cold, hard real world of today's society because of the fact that jobs are tough to find. KHS has an answer to this timeless and looming fear of employment through the efforts of Mr. Lynn Easely and Coach Jet Teague.

These men head up an organization known as M.O.C.T. that prepares students for several vocational careers after high school. This group is broken down into two different organizations of VICA and CCC. Coach Teague and Mr. Easely both instruct their students on how to run a business meeting properly by using parliamentary procedure and receive work experience which aides in job opportunities. It is based on the grand idea of proper work ethics and easing minds of those students that are worried about employment by showing them that with preparation, there is nothing they can't accomplish.

Good intentions

The National Honor Society put forth hard effort to make the school and community better.

The KHS National Honor Society dedicated a majority of their spare time to improving their community. Led by sponsor Mrs. Jackson and president Beth Scott. The NHS club participated in a poster fund-raiser to raise money to build a playground for the city park.

They were successful with their efforts, but students still asked for supply donations from business to aid in the project.

Besides raising money to help build the playground, NHS also decorated a bulletin board in the school every month. Other efforts included gathering clothes and supplies for the Battered Women's shelter. In these ways the National Honor Society has gone out of their way to improve KHS and the community.

Making the news

The journalism class goes out of their way to help keep the students informed of current events.

Whether selling ads or interviewing students, the newspaper staff was always hard at work. They covered many important events this year including sports, student polls and block scheduling. The best aspect of the paper is that the words come from students. This created a publication that was relevant to the student body.

Making the paper successful takes great effort on the part of the staff. Each student must sell advertisement spots to fund the paper. Without outside money sources, the paper could not be published. The staff was short on writers also, doubling the work load. "We definitely need more people to participate next year" said Senior Lori Rainwater. Students must go through an application process with sponsor MiLena Balthrop to qualify for the class.

Being the voice of the school is a privilege to all of those students who use their talents to make the newpaper a possibility.

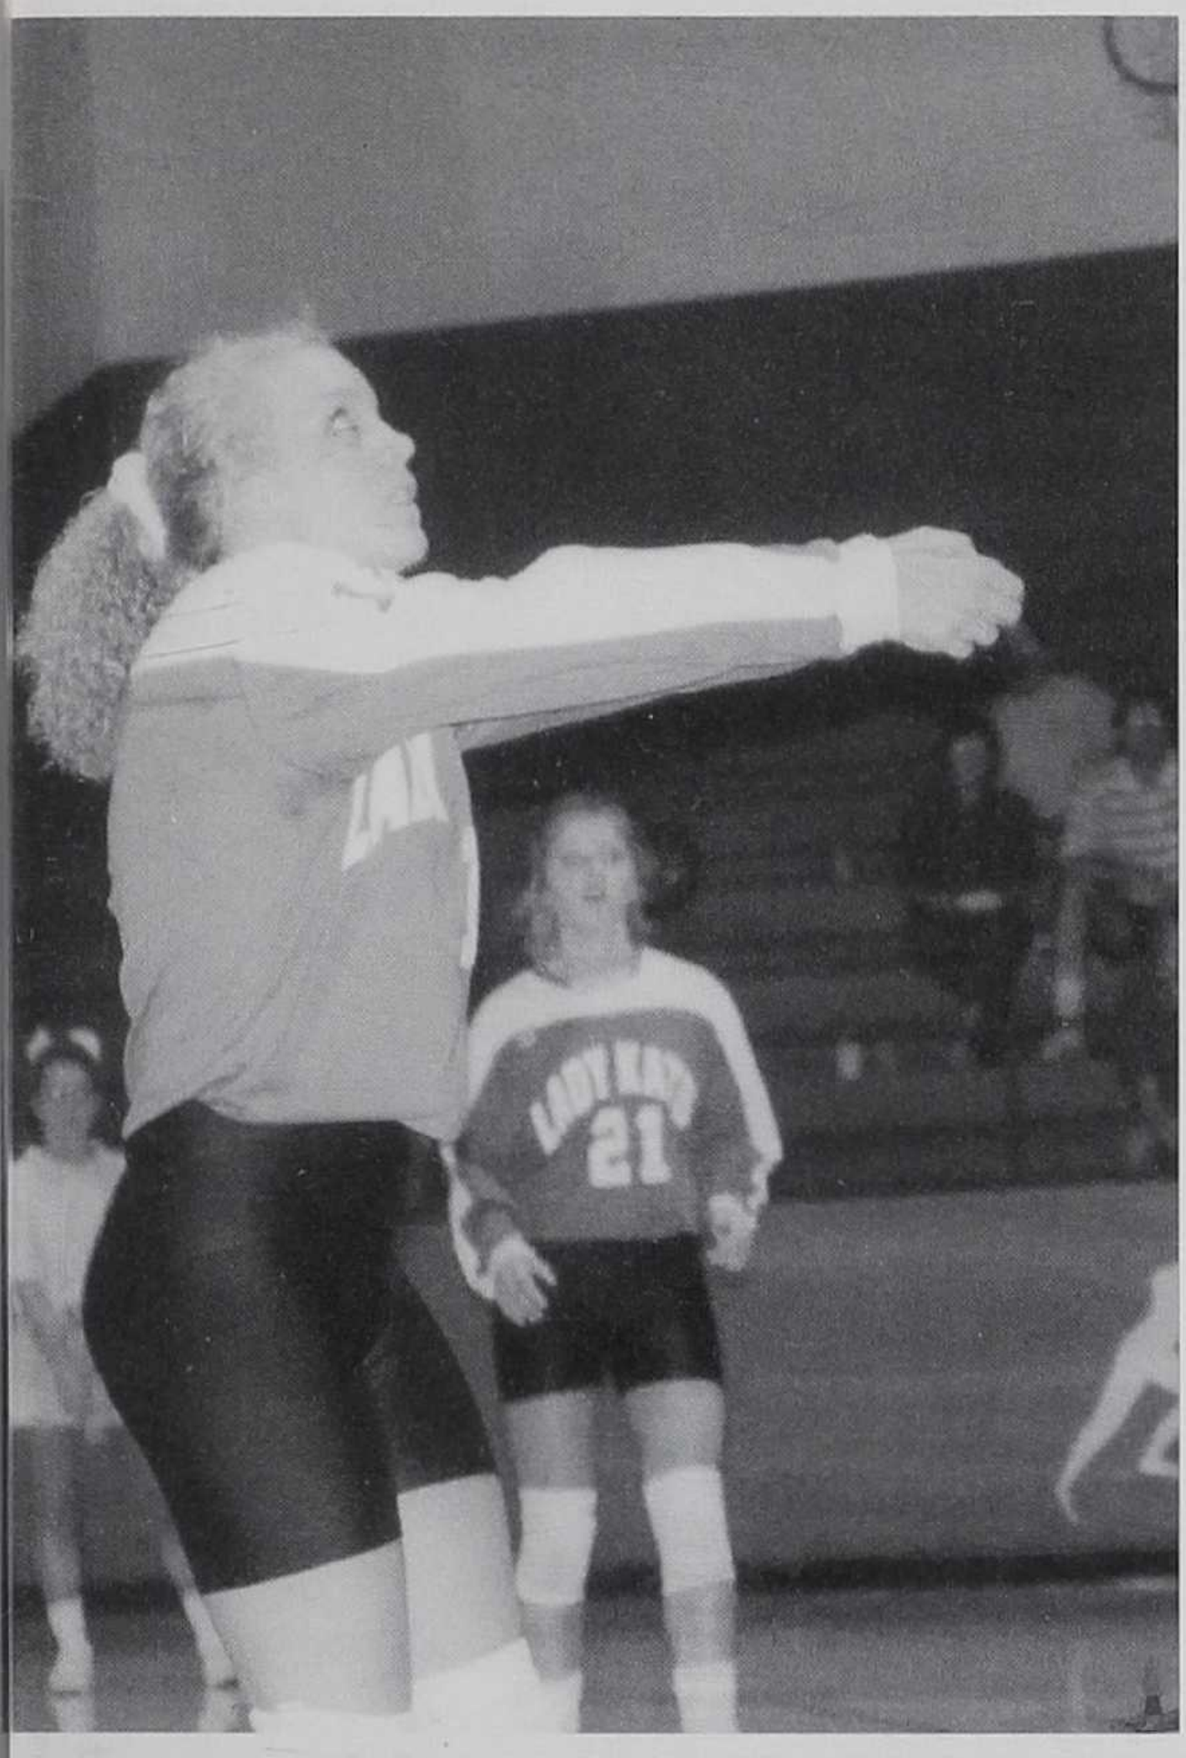
It's about TIME

by Candice Elmore and Casey Winters



The Lady Kats started off district play with an intense victory over West. This is the first time, in the district history of Kennedale, the Lady Kats have ever defeated West in volleyball at the Varsity level.

The Lady Kat team knew how important it was to defeat the Lady Trojans, the top team of the district. Throughout the entire game the Kats played together as a team, keeping each other pumped up and focused on winning. The cheering crowd was behind the Lady Kats and also helped them stay fired up. Whenever West made a mistake, the Lady Kats took advantage and capitalized on it. Senior Angie Waldrop stated, "The West game was an incredible experience for all us. You can't describe the feeling of pride and accomplishment we all felt when we beat the Trojans. We not only proved to ourselves but to everyone what we are capable of."

Beating the ODDS

by Casey Winters and Candice Elmore

The Freshman and Junior Varsity Lady Kats each participated in two tournaments. Outstanding matches were played by the J.V. in the Peaster Tournament and by the Freshmen in the Lake Worth Tournament.

The Lake Worth Tournament was unique for the Freshman because they played "pool" games. When they arrived they had no idea that they would be doing this, and the game times were different. They won two out of the three mini games to advance them to the championship game against Southwest High School. They were defeated in a three game match by Southwest, a 5A school, bringing home a second place trophy.

The Junior Varsity also had a unique outcome in the Peaster tournament. Since one team withdrew from the tournament, the J.V. split into A and B teams. By chance, The two Lady Kat teams played each other in the championship match. The B team won, and the Lady Kats brought home both a first and a second place trophy.

The Alvarado Indians rolled into town dragging behind them an inflated image and an undefeated record. The Wildcats dominated Alvarado, who was then ranked sixth in the state, throughout most of the game. Senior quarterback/safety, Mike Trammell highlighted his illustrious high school career as he rambled 64 yards on the first play from scrimmage in the second half. Kennedale had taken a 13-7 lead, but Alvarado again took the lead in the fourth quarter 13-14. The Wildcats were not finished though as they took their next possession from deep on their own side of the field all the way to the Alvarado nine-yard line, but fumbled on an "option" on the left side of the field. Alvarado won the game and the district title as Kennedale squandered several possible field goal opportunities throughout the game for unknown reasons.

Together AS ONE

by Mike Cosser

The game against the Hillsboro Eagles was full of the unexpected. To begin, the Junior Varsity and Freshman teams of KHS were combined due to mid-season grade problems. Adding the fact that the Wildcats were late arriving due to an accident slowing down traffic, one might wonder why they bothered playing that day. However, the game finally began and the Cats continued to have problems. It wasn't until the second quarter that a score was made by Hillsboro along with a successful two point conversion to put the Eagles on top 0-8 at the half. The Wildcats found themselves losing for only the third time in their season. Trying to get something started, Coach Perkins brought Freshman Ryan Cosser in to quarterback in the fourth quarter. The Cats put together an 80-yard drive capped off by a Jacob Wheeler touchdown and the two point conversion to tie the game. The Wildcats then tried an on side kick and recovered the ball. Kennedale got the ball and drove down field, but on the fourth down were stopped by the Eagles because of confusion in the huddle. The horrid beginning ended in an 8-8 tie.

A man's TOUCH

by Beau Hester

As if cheerleading wasn't interesting enough, the pep rally before the West game was certainly a memorable one. The Wildcat tradition continued with several Varsity players exchanging positions with the cheerleaders and the guys cheering along in front of the student body. However, this pep rally was not just jumbled together into one big disorganized, embarrassing moment; the guys just made it look that way.

Actually both football players and cheerleaders worked together for two weeks, three hours a day in the gym after football practice. The entertaining results were highlighted when Jennifer Feasel was catapulted into an orbital back-flip in the middle of the gym by the guys. Both cheerleaders and football players danced and did cheers together drawing the student body into a virtual frenzy. There was also a "football scrimmage" in which the rules behind a penalty were shown in slow motion and even quickly rewound.

Busy BODIES

by Beu Hester

Many people consider the transition from the Junior High to the High School to be one of the hardest moves in a teenager's life. Freshmen are thrown into a life of homework and upper classmen that aren't exactly neighborly; now imagine adding the responsibilities of being a Junior Varsity cheerleader and you have what all six Freshmen on this squad went through.

The life of a J.V. cheerleader is made difficult because Freshmen aren't old enough to drive, so much depends on their parents, friends, or the schoolbus to get them where they need to be. Practice begins at 6:30 in the morning and then the girls have to rush to get ready for class.

> "Coming in so early and getting in late sometimes just makes us all so tired."
> Cheerleader Missy Birtt

On Thursdays, the J.V. girls cheer for both the Freshman and Junior Varsity games which last for about four hours. On road trips they return late and are then obligated to cheer at the Pep Rallies on Friday mornings.

Always on THE RUN

by Mike Cosser

On October 1, the Cross Country team partici pated in an invitational meet at Veteran's Park. This day was anything but routine for the runners. To start off with, instead of just having J.V. and Varsity competition, there was a Freshman race also. This meant that the Freshman Cats would get the opportunity to see how they would compete against runners their own age. However, the Freshmen almost missed this opportunity because the race officials combined boys and girls divisions. "Luckily", a boy jumped the gun and the race had to be restarted, allowing the Cats to compete. Humberto Castro and Ryan Cosser took advantage of the second chance finishing second and fourth. J.V. and Varsity also competed and gave excellent effort. On this day, the team's overall times did not improve, but running through forests and up hills effected them.

"I believe that if you were to take Saturday's effort and place it on a flat course that you would see the improvement." Coach Lenzmeier

Precision COUNTS

by Candice Elmore and Casey Winters

Kennedale's newest sen sation, the AristoKats, began their first year as a drill team. The drill team, made up of ten members and a manager, are directed by Glenda Boenig. They wanted a name that signified the "best", and was also feminine. As they brainstormed for an appropriate name they decided on Aristo, meaning the best, and cats with a capital "K" which is for ladies.

The girls tried out in front of judges only, and the ones with the highest scores were made officers. The officers choreographed the dances for the pep rallies and half-time entertainment. Every Monday for two hours they painted posters for the hall and the gym.

> "I wanted to bring unity and spirit to KHS and to provide more opportunities to the girls who weren t in cheerleading or athletics."
> Sponsor, Glenda Boenig

Sponsor Glenda Boenig worked for four years to start a drill team, and finally was granted approval for this football season. After working so hard to get a drill team, the girls hope to better themselves yearly and continue to be successful. Mrs. Boenig stated, "I want tradition to prevail. This will continue."

Fight Song
When the Kennedale Team falls into line,
We're going to win that game another time.
And for the High School that we love so well
We're going to yell, and yell, and yell, and yell, and yell!
We're going to Fight
We're going to win
We're going to roll
Yes we will! Rah!

Close CALL

The Varsity LadyKats hosted the Whitney Wildcats in a battle for a District win. At the end of the first quarter, the score was even at thirteen points each. As the game progressed the LadyKats fought hard to stay neck and neck with the Whitney Wildcats. Going in to the fourth quarter, the score was tied at 48. However, the LadyKats let their chance for a district win slip away by five points. The LadyKats fell short with a close score of 70-65 to Whitney. Senior Amanda Cash said, "Although the LadyKats didn't win against Whitney, we played a tremendous game. We are a young team and it's hard being the only senior sometimes, but I enjoyed playing, and I will miss the girls."

In the nick OF TIME

The J.V. and Freshmen LadyKat basketball teams had a lot in common this year in pre-season play. The freshmen had a very exciting game against Carter-Riverside High School. With just two seconds remaining on the game clock and a tied score, the LadyKats knew they couldn't waste any time. Maranda Daniels inbounded the ball to Jennifer Statum for a quick two points. Thus resulting in a 28-26 win for the LadyKats.

The J.V. game against Maypearl had the crowd on their feet for the entire game. Throughout the event, the score stayed close with Maypearl just a few points ahead. At the last minute of the game, the LadyKats caught up and tied the score. The first overtime began and both teams went up four points. During the second overtime, both teams added two more points. Coach Barnfield called a time out and told the girls to pass the ball down the court quickly and shoot. The LadyKats went out with determination and passed the ball to Hiedi Burns who made the winning basket. Both the J.V. and Freshmen teams did what it took to win those games, and applied that same determination and drive throughout the season.

ON THE Buzzer

In a dramatic finish, the Varsity Wildcat basketball team came from behind to defeat their arch rival, the Alvarado Indians. The Wildcats started the game out like most of their previous games, giving their opponent a huge lead. However, by halftime the Cats had rallied their way back, silencing the crowd and taking a two point lead into the locker room.

They came out fired up in the third quarter bombing shots from behind the three point line. By the end of the third, the Cats were ahead by six. In the fourth quarter, the tide turned as the home crowd cheered the Indians back into the game. With time ticking down, Alvarado had a two point lead, but a shot at the buzzer by Junior Marci Ford tied the game. Overtime was like a table tennis match with the score chnging back and forth. Once again with time running out the Indians had a one point lead, but were devastated by Ford's clutch shot to win the game. Junior Sam Riley said,"It felt good to beat our arch rivals, especially at their place." Clutch play from Juniors Dewayne Alexander, Michael Cosser, and Ford sealed the victory for the Wildcats by a score of 70-69.

Clean SWEEP

The J.V. and Freshmen teams kept themselves in contention for the district championship by sweeping the Alvarado Indians in Alvarado. Fire seemed to boil from each and every Wildcats eyes in anticipation of the stomping that they were about to administer.

The night was destined to belong to the Cats as freshman Dante Jones and Ryan Cosser combined for a total of 26 points to put the freshman Indians below the court. When the dust cleared the Cats were on top with a desisive win of 59-37 over Alvarado.

Love ALL

by Angie Head

The Wildcat tennis team had their best performance in matfches against Hillsboro. For starters, all of the Varsity girls won every match. #1 doubles, Amber Head and Erica Wampole, had five aces in their 6 game match. Both #1 singles, Angel Santos and #2 doubles Angie Head and Lori Hooser creamed their opponents 6 to 2.

The Girls Junior Varsity teams did well also. Hitting three spikes in her singles game was #2 Jackie Schlauch. #1 singles Laurie Flynt tore up the court beating her opponent 6 to 1.

The guys Varsity and J.V did just as well. Varsity #1 singles John Noel and doubles Joseph Quintero and Cody Brewer both went into overtime and defeated theri opponents 7 games to 5. Varsity singles shannon callies had a great game, but barely lost 6 to 4. J.V. players Jerry Wyatt and Mike Agnello commented on having a great time as first year additions.

"Nobody ever took tennis seriously; it was always football, football, football, but since my Freshman year, the team has grown an really improved. Maybe we will get we deserve."

Batter UP

by Mike Cosser

The Junior Varsity basebal team started the season off receiving a second place trophy in the Northside tournament. In the first game the Wildcats played Trimble Tech and got out to an early bashing. The J.V. accounted for seven runs in the second inning including a Keldric Palmer home run. The Cats went on to win 13-2. In the second game the Wildcats played Nolan which is always a struggle. However, this time the Cats came out victorious 5-3 with key defensive play and hits when they needed them most. In the championship game, the wildcats finally met their match when they played Aledo. The Cats were unable to get their offensive going in the 1-10 loss. The Wildcats gave a strong showing and proved their coach proud as they received second place and named Keldric Palmer and Jacob Wheeler to the All Tournament Team.

A full HOUSE

BY Beau Hester

The Wildcat Varsity baseball team rolled into the 1995 season with more talent than ever before and a promising shot at winning a first ever district title. Eleven varsity players returned from last year to build an offensive arsenal lead by Seniors Mike Trammell and Beau Hester and Juniors Jeremy Ledbetter and Mike Cosser. The pitching staff was also laced with ace Michael Trammell, who had a hard fast ball and a biting curve. Michael Cosser carried a well controlled fast ball and an elusive gravity curve; also Juniors Matt Disch, Brad Neal and David Wadkins lent their talent to the Wildcat bull pen.

The Cats went into their preseason schedule in a freak monsoon season and were only able to play three out of their first nine games. The Cats took a tough loss to the Everman Bulldogs, in a 2-0 game and then were lucky enough to actually get to play Godley in a one run last inning clincher.

Three to WIN IT

by Candice Elmore aned Casey Winters

The LadyKats traveled to Venus for their second district game. With Freshman Miranda Mayse's strong pitching, the LadyKats were able to keep Venus from scoring. The LayKats were also alive with their bats scoring four runs in the first inning, eight in the second and three in the third for a total of fifteen runs, constituting a "run-ruled" victory. Pitcher, Miranda Mayse, received her first no-hitter of the season in just three short innings.

> "We didn't expect to win 15-0, but with Miranda's pitching and our team work, we can do anything we put our minds to."
> Junior Maranda McElvany

On the offensive end, Juniors Casey Winters, Maranda McElvany, and Candice Elmore all contributed to the scoring with stand-up doubles and Freshman Jeri McMillan with a hard-hit triple. Junior Maranda McElvany said, "We didn't expect to win 15-0, but with Miranda's pitching and the team work we have, we can do anything we put our minds to." The LadyKats proved this to be true with a 15-0 victory in three innings.

On the RIGHT TRACK

by Sarah Henley

The season started on the right track for the Varsity and Junior Varstiy girls teams. Both clinched first place in the West Relays, the first track meet of the season. Track veterans and newly added freshman worked together every other morning and during class periods on perfecting their skills. The girls were able to compete successfully in all categories: running, jumping, and throwing. Kim James and Amy Mayberry did an outstanding job jumping including a record-breaking long jump of 16'9" by Kim James. Amy Mayberry then proceeded to win first place in high jump.

> "Our track team is stronger. If we work at it, more people will go to Regionals and hopefully State."
> Junior Maranda McElvany

The relays worked on hand-offs and timing everyday. Morgan Jones said, "Most of the girls are returners and we read each other pretty well." In throwing, newcomer Nikki Marrow received first place in discus with Jamie Malone and April Hencke not far behind. The season was summed up with Coach Lamberth saying, "It's nice to have more quality numbers in track despite of their other activities."

Getting TEED OFF

by Ann Bitnec

The freezing winter winds that blew into Kennedale this year may have postponed a few games, but they did nothing to damper the spirits of the anxious and determined golf team. On February 28, the three remaining girls; one being out on injury; met early in the morning despite the bitter cold, to play their best in a tournament in Bridgeport. They, along with competitors from many schools in the region, suffered frozen fingers and chattering knees to play the game they love so well. In the end, the tournament was called off after eleven holes, the first nine being the only ones scored. Sophomores Valerie O'Brien finished a 64, Barbara Abbott with a 69, and Ann Bitenc with a 79.

> "Golf is more than an excuse to get out of school and get a tan. It s for fun and the love of the game, and just the thrill of being a part of something."
> Sophomore Barbara Abbott

They weren't the only ones to suffer. The boys' Bridgeport tournament, scheduled for the next day, was actually canceled due to the bad weather. However, they didn't get off so easily. Four of the players met the following Monday for a chilly meet in Decatur. The cold air didn't stop the ever-persistent boys, who finished with good scores. After 18 holes, Sophomore Marty Reeves had a 96, and Freshmen Brock Goodwin had 112, Chris Davis with 88, and Jacob Wheeler scored 91.

Strict candy rules forced FBLA members to push extra hard to earn money.

THEY'RE PUSHING IT

Not being able to sell candy during school hours this year forced FBLA members to resort to more creative fundraisers. The members of FBLA sold spirit links homecoming week, which raised about 400 dollars. They also chose to do a "brochure sale" to help raise money for individual members. These fundraisers helped FBLA members raise enough money to attend district and state conferences where they competed in events and furthured their knowledge of the world of business.

3 Angie Head - sophomore - "The thing I most remember about FBLA this year was how fun the car wash was at the beginning of the year."

Spanish and French clubs broaden students horizons with insight on the lifestyles of different countries.

CULTIVATING CULTURES

The French and Spanish clubs differ when it comes to their respective cultures, but they still provide students with insight into different countries. Candy sales and other fundraisers helped support both clubs' trips to various ethnic restraunts to explore the many aspects of these cultures. Through music, atmosphere, and food, students delve into the backgrounds of the languages they study. By learning more about other cultures, Spanish and French club members gained a better understanding of the different Countries.

✓ Nikita Smith - Senior - "Learning about their (French) culture provides a sense of worldliness to me. It gives me a broader perspective when I want to discuss what's going on in the news."

✓ Sarah Henley - Sophomore - "The trip to San Antonio was especially educational, and it taught me a lot about the Spanish culture."

With new sponsors for the Student and Principal councils, the main objective was to improve school and community.

GETTING INVOLVED

With Mr. Farmer as the new principal, he also took over the responsibility of Principal's Council. In the meetings, Mr. Farmer stressed the importance of cultural unity in the various organizations. Mrs. Stevens also brought a breath of fresh air to an important organization, Student Council. She worked to get the members involved with the community. They baked cookies for the Kennedale Nursing Home and participated in a nickel drive to help establish a trust fund for injured Freshman Brittany Geer.

✓ Brian Hommel - Junior - "Things have been very different this year with Mrs. Stevens as the sponsor. We tend to work more with the community than just the school"

✓ Sam Riley - Junior - The Principal's Council has excelled due to Mr. Farmer. We are making enormous contributions to our school and learning for our future."

✓ Lori Rainwater - Senior - "Mr. Farmer's Principal's Council has their goals set high for the upcoming years, and all members have great interests in improving school and community pride."

WE'RE THESPIANS

During the first semester, the Drama department helped out with "Godspell", the first musical performed by the Musical Theater. Second semester brought all concentrating on the U.I.L. play "What I did Last Summer," with help from Drama president Beth Scott, vice-President Franklin Jones, Secretary Jamie Durham, and Treasurer Angie Valentino.

✓ Diana Freeborn - Sophomore - "Everyone in Drama was glad the musical, "Godspell", turned out great since we helped out. I'm especially glad that the U.I.L. play was just as good if not better."

✓ Skip Freeman - Senior -"What I did Last Summer," the U.I.L. play was about normal people living normal lives, and that is what made it so fun."

Screaming horns, crying flutes, and booming drums make this band a...

BIG BANG

The band experienced struggles with Mother Nature which created more than creative alternatives. A freak storm surprised them at the Whitney football game taking anything and everything swirling into the air. Wtih the cry "grab what you can and get on the bus," the band members rushed and gushed their way to the waiting vehicle. Then, while at U.I.L. competition, the weather was against them once again. The instruments were soaked and the only alternative was to dry them under the hand dryers in the public restroom. They still scored a 2 for the record books.

✓ Christy Biggs - "It's rad that all of the band people can stillstand each other. We have practice together soemtimes 3 hours a day. It takes endurance."

✓ Rebecca Debrecht - "It was very exciting when we had the honor of performing during tha half-time show at a TCU football game.

✓ Diana Anderson - "Even though it was pouring down rain and we were miserable at U.I.L., we all managed to pull together and give it our all. '

✓ Pie Branzuela and Alfredo Parra - "The thing we remember most aabout this year was our "paw print" fundraiser. We went around house to house and offered to paint paw prints on their driveway; it was a blast!"

Kennedale Wildcat Band Creed

We are the Kennedale Wildcat Band.
We face the future with a song in our heart.
We make the pep rallies and halftimes of yesterday, today and forever!
We uplift spirits and bring joy to our friends and family.
We enjoy ourselves, our work, and our achievements.
We strive to make the student body enjoy us as well.
We bring music not only to the band hall but to the world.
We stand united lest we should fall,
We are not individuals but one body in victory and defeat!
We are the Kennedale Wildcat Band.
We face the future with a song in our heart.

Because of the trip to The Bahamas, the choir members did extra fundraising. They worked at Six Flags, sold calenders, sold candy, and addressed envelopes. All of the extra time paid off literally as the singing faded into the distance on its way across the ocean.

✓ Jacob Shutter - Freshman -"Even though most people think choir is boring, the spring concert was actually kind of fun."

✓ Heather Collins - Junior -"It was a nice change to get to perform at Holiday in the Park. Usually when we have choir conerts, we just have them in the cafeteria."

✓ Meagan Irwin - Senior -"Choir is really exciting this year because I get to go on a cruise and sing; my two favorite thngs."

FLAG FOLLIES

✓ April Irwin - Junior -"At the first home game, we were twisting our flags behind our back, and I grabbed my my skirt instead of my flag. I ended up flashing everyone in the stands."

✓ Lark Wallis - Freshman -"In our routine I had to pass closely between two flute players. During the game at Joshua when I passed through them, a flute got caught in my shirt and I almost dropped my flag."

Lark Wallis, April Irwin, Angie Head, and Brian Tatum perforemd during half-time. Due to a wet field, the performance was moved to the track.

RIGHT BRAINS ONLY

The art club focused their time on creating a more unique environment than the typical public high school. They not only continued their work with the murals, but started a new project: to beautify the filthiest things around...the SCHOOL TRASH CANS. Each member created their own design and worked to create a masterpiece for our community. They also put on the annual art exhibit, images, in the spring. Trips to museums and local Universities throughout the year helped to expose them to a variety of art styles.

✓ Jason Armour - Senior - "In the Art Club we grow gotees, put on beanies, wear all black and roll in paint."

✓ Christy Biggs - Junior - "Art is the basis for all cultures. Our club gets us in touch with that universal language. We're experimenting with our own individuality."

✓ Brock Kuharchek - Junior - "Art Club is life. Basketball is for wussies. NO FEAR."

Helping the community through their service was the single goal for FHA and SADD.

HELPING HANDS

Students Against Drunk Driving had meetings every thursday which included guest speakers and group discussions on drinking, drugs and high school pressures. The officers, President Kristy Barefoot, Vice-President James Kinney, Secretary Sharon Buck, and Treasurer Krista Keesee, headed up the red ribbon week. future Homemakers of America, officers President Kristy Barefoot, Secretary Jennifer Statum, and Treasurer Kim Brumfield helped to organize conferences to help educate the community on environmental issues.

✓ Quay Gill - Sophomore - "I feel comfortable in SADD because I'm around my friends, have learned what's ritght and wrong, and know I can turn to the other members of the club."

✓ Kristy Barefoot - Senior -"We have learned about leadership qualities and helping the environment."

WHAT IS YOUR NICKNAME, AND HOW DID YOU GET IT?

"My grandfather gave me my nickname. It started when my mother was pregnant, and he called me his little skipper. When I was born they brought me home and showed me to my sister. When they said 'here is you brother Wesley', she cried and asked where Skipper was, so the name stuck. It shortened to just Skip later.

Maegan,
I never thought it would come so fast! It seems like it was only yesterday that we were freshmen! We have come so far since then! Remember when we were always in trouble and thought no one cared! Then we began to grow up and realize school wasn't just a game! We sure did have a lot of fun. Remember all the great football games, Remember the trips to Galveston,
Remember the trips to Oklahoma, And
Remember that you will always be my bestest friend!
Love, Trisha

Jenny,
You've grown from a pretty little girl with a sweet smile to a beautiful young woman with that same sweet smile.

DADDY AND JAN

"Your children are not your children. They are the sons and daughters of Life's longing for itself. They came through you but not from you and though they are with you yet they belong not to you.

You may give them your Love but not your thoughts, for they have their own thoughts. You may house their bodies but not their souls, For their souls dwell in the house of tomorrow, which you cannot visit, not even in your dreams.

You may strive to be like them, but seek not to make them like you, for Life goes not backward nor tarries with yesterday.

You are the bows from which your children as living arrows are sent forth."

From The Prophet by Kahil Gibran (1883-1931)

"We are the children of God: And if the children, then heirs; heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ." Romans 8:22

Temple babies always occupy a special place in their father's hearts. Wrods cannot express the Love I have for you.

Your loving Dad

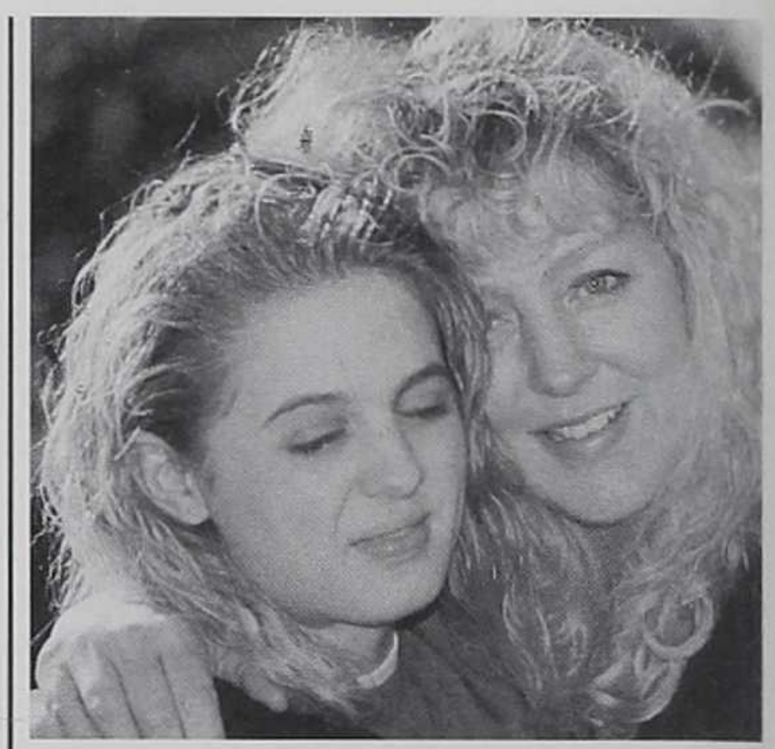
SENIIOR ADS 119

Dearest Jen,
You are a very sweet and pretty girl and I wish you a future full of success. Love you so much.
Charldean (Me-Me)

Dear Jeni,
I love you bigger than the whole wide world. Don't worry, I'll learn my numbers and letters eventually.
Your Bubba,
Richie

Dear Jennifer,
I have always been proud to be your Aunt Margaret Anne. You have accomplished so many things and I know you will accomplish many more. Please remember I will always be there for you and we love you so much.
Love, Aunt Margaret and Uncle Don

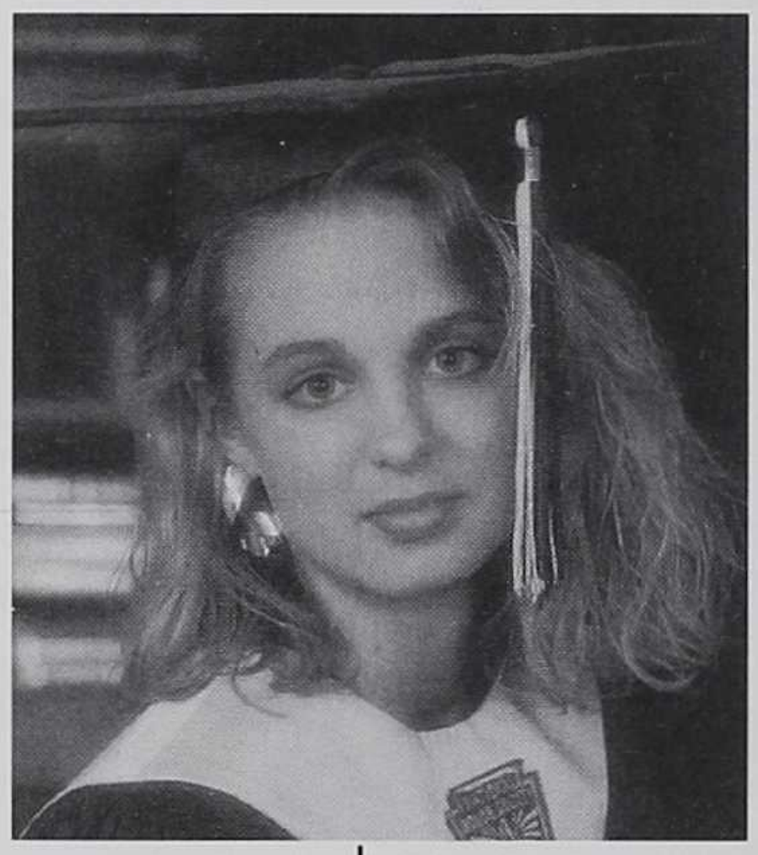


Dear Jennifer,
Hi Honey! I am so proud for you and what you have accomplished. You are an honored, beautiful and special girl and I feel so close to you. I know that your father would feel so proud of what you have accomplished in your life. I know that you will always make me proud of you whatever you do!
Love, Grandma Tula

Jeni,
For fifteen years (almost sixteen), you've stuck by me through everything and I want you to know, I'll do the same for you forever. I love you and good luck.
Love always,
Jamie Lynn Durham

Dear Jennifer,
There are no words to express how thankful I am to have you for my daughter. You have been my right arm, my friend and the very best daughter that anyone could ever ask for. I hope that we will always be close and I wish great and wonderful things for you. Please always know, I will always be there for you! Follow your dreams and keep me as part of your life always.
Love, Mom

Dear Jen,
Do chickens have lips? You are what every parent wants and more and a pride to anyone of us who know you. Keep your feet on the ground and keep reaching for the stars. Love, Uncle Lucy



Dear Jen,
I have known you all of your life. You have always focused on goals and high ambitions. You are patient, kind and relate to small children. I wish you the very best and know you will do well.
Love, Ruth

Jennifer,
You were the first angel in your Mother's life. We can have hope for the future because you'll be there to make it better. Heatlh and Happiness to you! Carol Floyd

Because the world is plagued with loue, proud, obnoxious People, God gave us Jeni that we might experience peace, humility and gentleness.
Barry Conner

Jen,
There are people we meet inlife that impact our lives in a very positive way. You are one of those people. I am grateful to have shared a part of your life.
Love,
Donna Knight

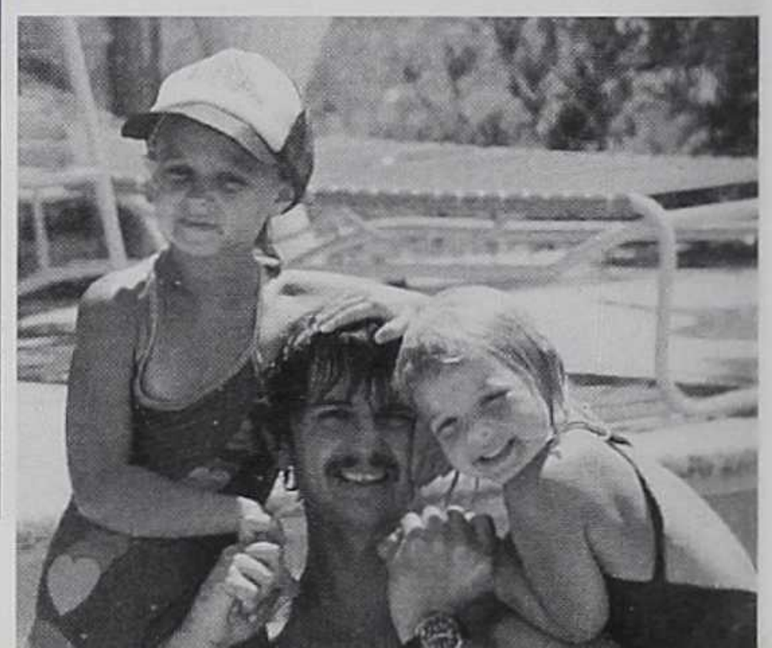
Jennifer,
Tonight you graduated from St. John's. To tell the truth, you were the prettiest little girl in the whole mess of little people there. You showed off a little bit but I loved it and so did your Mommie. Jennifer, this is just the first of many graduations yet to come in your life. I hope that I'll always be there, if not, I'll be there in my heart.
Love, Daddy
P.S. Daddy was real proud of you !!

Jennifer Durham,
Blonde, blue-eyed and caring -like her mother. Full of smiles and big dreams - like her father - She's tall and good-looking - like them both. We've ridden horse trails together, canoe'd rivers together, critiqued Georgia O'Keefe together and seen the eye of God in Egypt's face. Serious since the day she was born and intense about her goals in life. I've watched her grow to her future built on a foundation of love rooted in a hundred-year-old farm in the middle of Arkansas.
She'll always be my "Fer-Fer"
Aunt Sally

Jennifer,
I have enjoyed spending a good part of your life with you.
Always and Forever, Rick Everhart

Jeni,because of your commitment, compassion, and character, this world will be a better place to live. Looking forward to watching you grow in the Lord.
Marvin Raines



Angel,

You're the Greatest Sister anyone could have. But you're mine and I wouldn't trade that for a million dollars.

Love,
Your Brother
Zechariah

Congratulations!

Angel,

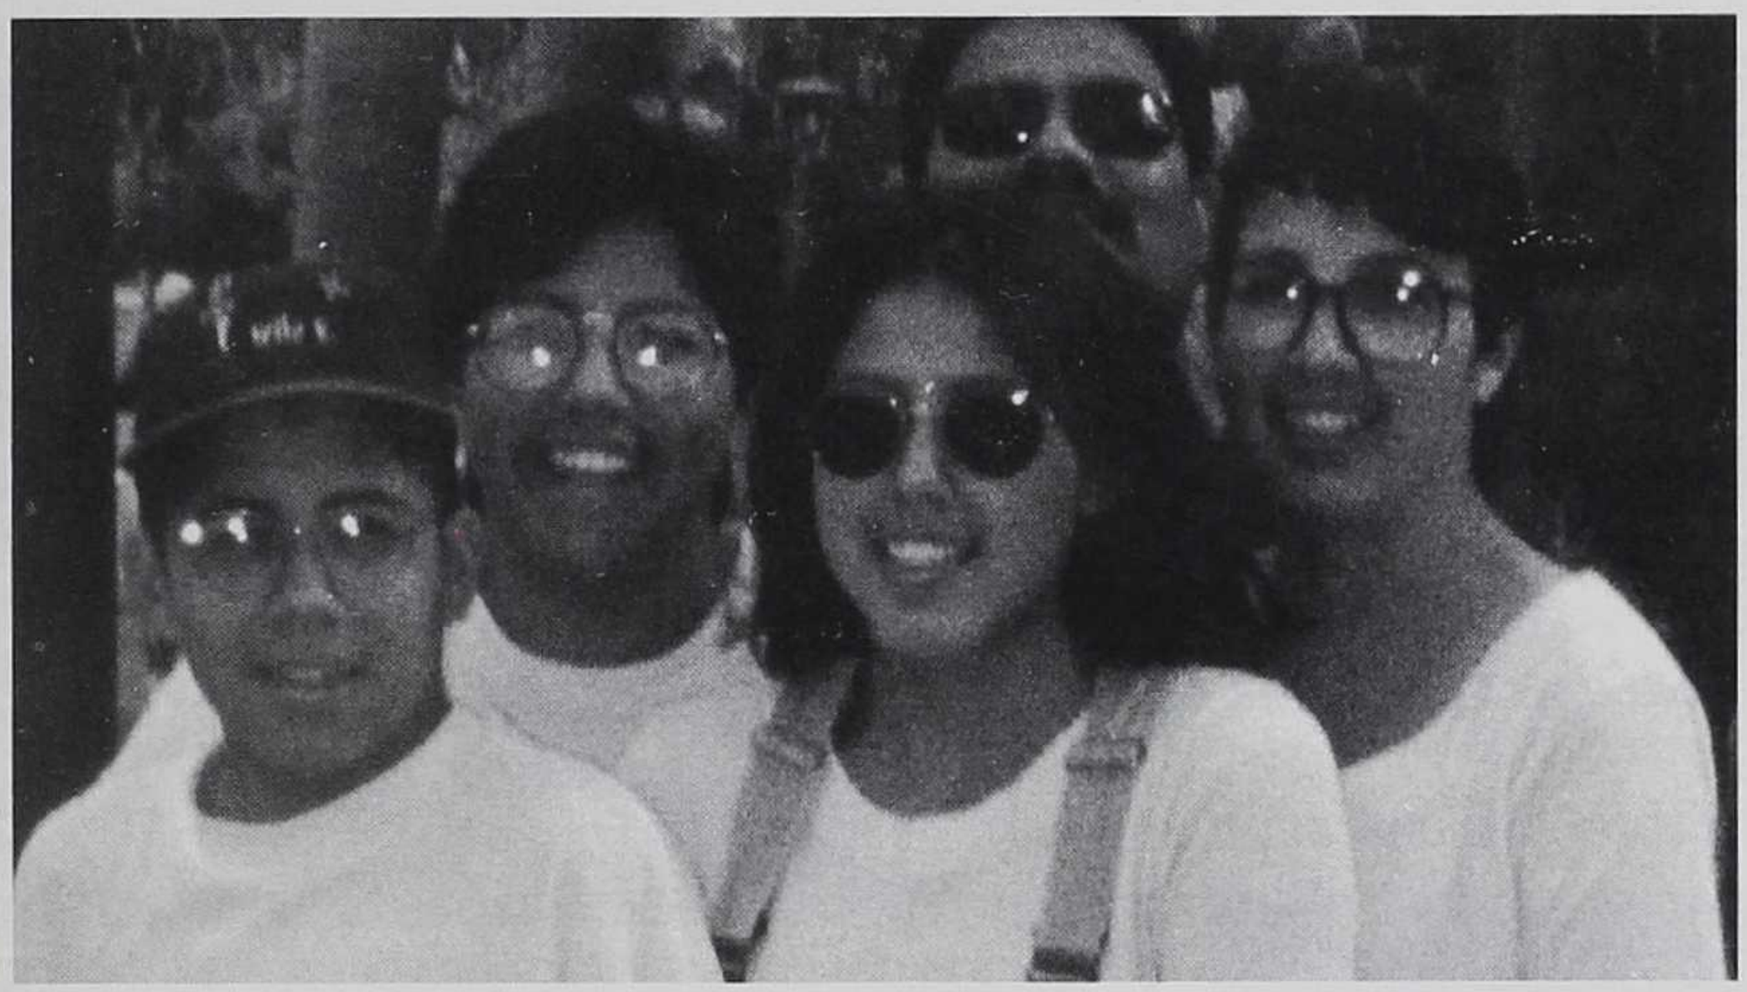
You have made it through twelve long years of school. Of course I knew you could do it. You will always be my favorite little sister.

Love,
Monica

Angel,

We are very proud of you. You're a wonderful person with a very deep heart. Always remember to keep Jehovah in your Life and you will never go wrong.

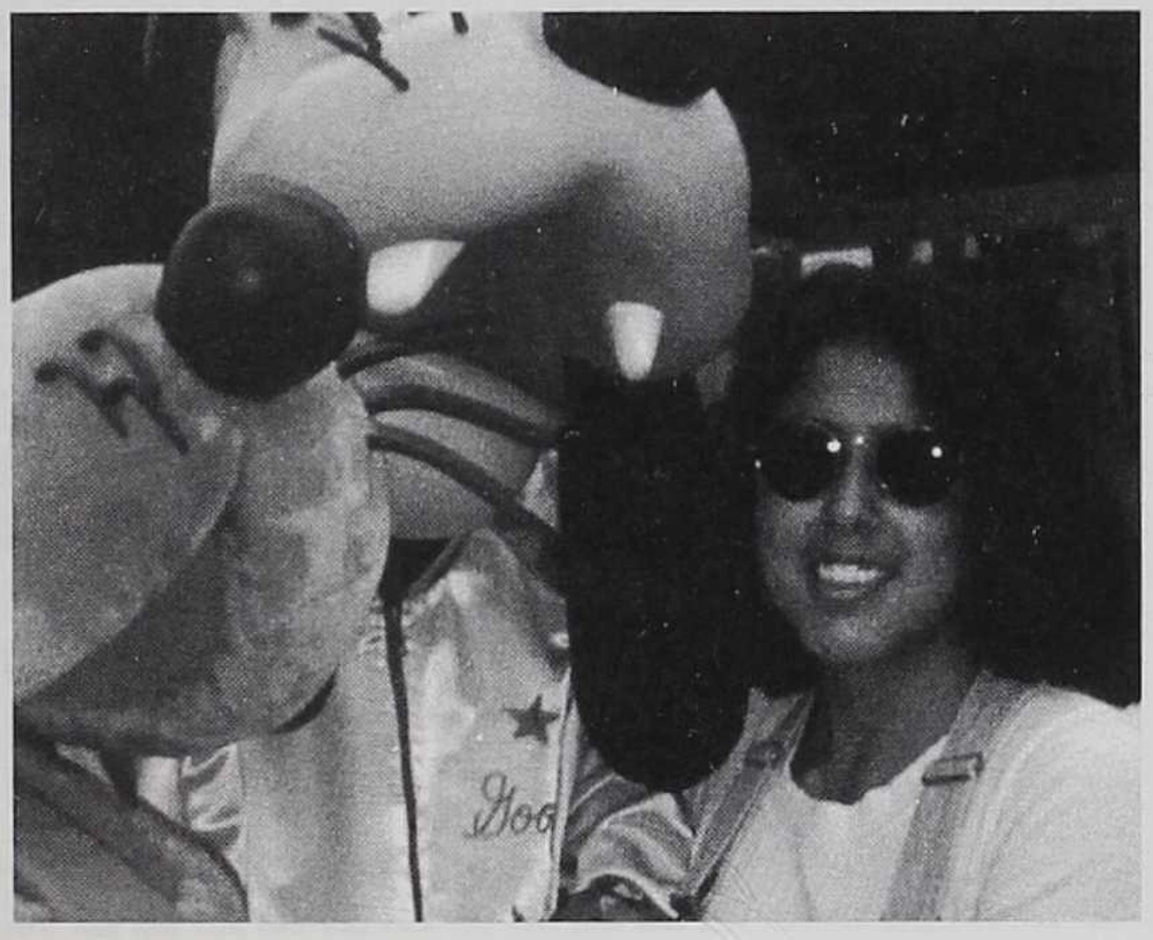
Love,
Uncle Uncle Clifford, Marie, Aunt Becky, Cary

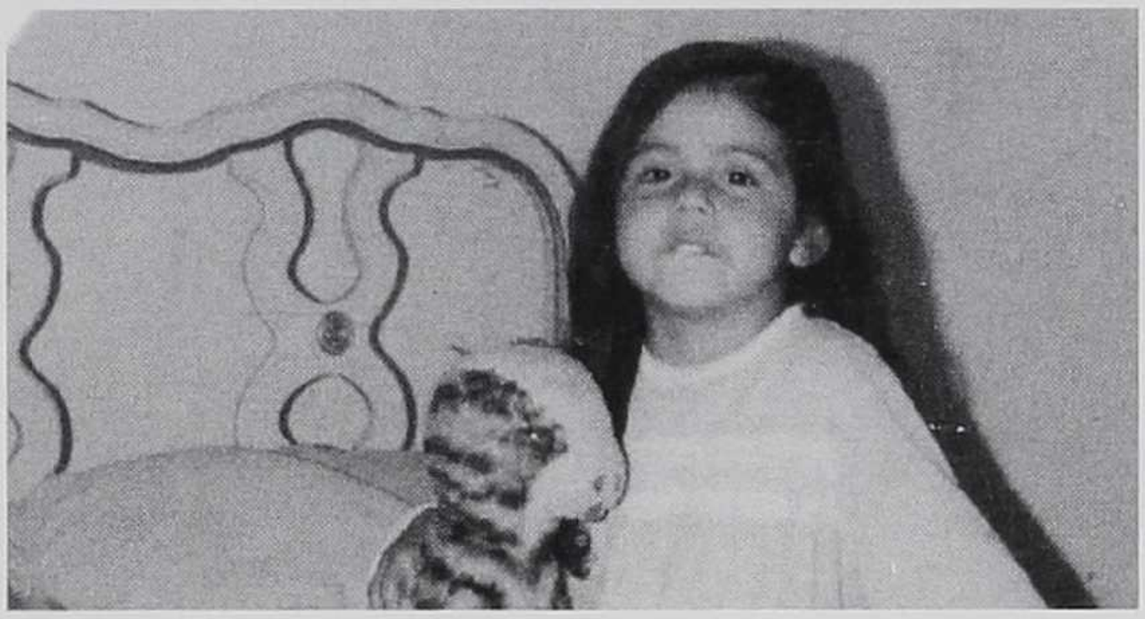


Angel,

Our beautiful little girl has grown into a lovely young lady. We only want the best for you always. Follow your dreams, but always keep Jehovah first in your life.

We Love You Always,
Mom and Dad





Angel,

You're a Goofy Girl. Have fun in Canada with Keanu.

Love,
Mom

Angel Santos

Congratulations Kim

You have been in the lead all your life!
In kindergarten we thought you would be a dancer-but you turned out to be a climber.
In Elementary you started out to be a Brownie-and became a leader.
In Junior High you raced into athletics-and accelerated to scorekeeping.
In High School you ventured into writing-and quickly advanced to yearbook editor.
As the years zoomed by you've been the light of our life. And now you are racing off to Aggieland.
Stay in the lead, keep the faith and soon you will be in the big race - hopefully at Nascar Texas.

Kim Miller

EDITOR'S NOTE

Well staff we did it! One more senior class gone and one more yearbook complete. It is only natural that we have several people to thank and even more memories to recall.

Angie: you always brought us laughs when you didn't "get it." We know you are a little blonde, but we also know you are very smart and helpful.

Jamie: We really appreciate you having your pages done on time. Making the deadline is the most important part.

Jeni: You were never shy when it came to taking pictures and because of that we have some great photos. And even though we often didn't except you offer to help, we were listening and we did appreciate the offer.

Beau: The staff wouldn't have been near as fun without Beau and his stories. The commentary on the cheerleaders and his negative comments about Alvarado in basketball were great--too bad we couldn't print them. And we loved your tales especially the camera chasin' one. Though they were a little long, they were always pretty funny.

Karla & Becky: You guys always put up a good argument. It really is too bad that journalism has its rules. Y'all had some great ides. Maybe next year's editor won't be so strict.

Mike, Candice, and Casey: (the Sports trio) You were smarter than any of us. The Designer Series pages looked great. Maybe we will learn to take the easy way out next time.

Kristina: You laugh at everything! But Sarah is the funniest when she tells you that what you are laughing at isn't funny.

Sarah: Remember to order group pictures in the future! Also, when you enter a bank or any other formal institution, learn how to greet people--you don't own the place.

Brian: (the invisible staffer) We still wonder how the yearbook got in that stupid little bulging trash can at the bottom of the screen.

Ann: (Miss Organization) How do you manage to be in such a chipper mood all the time--especially during deadlines? We have to give you a special thanks for putting up with all our comments when you were a fish on staff. You must have learned something from it, because you sure were nice to us this year. Thanks for running all those little errands and writing all the stories. Also, thanks for cleaning out the cabinet when it needed it. Lord knows we never would have done it.

Meagan: We really are glad that you gave us a second chance this year. You turned out to be a true asset to our staff. We only wish we would have had you last year.

John: Thank you for all your help in our crisis situations. We also truly appreciate you putting up with us in Missouri with the John Deer Tractors. We really aren't as strange as we seem. Thanks also for all the Aggieland updates and especially for the book.

And last but definitely not least, Coach Elrod (Campbell): We knew we'd marry you off before we graduated. You have stuck with us through it all: the icy Thanksgiving Day, my out of town trips during deadlines, us nosing into your personal life, and us going behind your back to fix our mistakes. It has been rough, but we've come a long way. The camps were great even though I gave Tater and you a scare this year. You guys knew I'd show up. Maybe next year you can get some sleep at camp since I won't be there to keep you up. I still don't believe people talk in their sleep. Without you, we never could have gotten this far. We have a great publisher, a fairly reliable computer, and a much nicer camera than before. We even have our own room--which needs a PHONE and bed. Thank you for not leaving us and thank you for not holding our mistakes against us. We are really gonna miss ya!

Now that we leave the Wildcat Track behind us we leave one piece of advice to future staffers; You must care about the quality of the book and what the student body thinks. If you don't have it in your heart you are wasting your time. Thanks to everyone on the staff. We did it. It is finally over! WHOOP! We now have 128 pages to remember it by.

Kim & Trisha

P.S. Trisha: You put everything you had into this book for three years. Senioritis got the best of both of us in the end, but the memories will never die. Though you never got the recognition you deserve, you were the closest thing to an Editor that I have ever seen. I truly appreciate your opinion and advice and especially all the hours you dedicated. Thank you for caring enough to leave a positive mark on Kennedale High.
